i·con (ī'kŏn')

-noun

An image; a representation.

An important and enduring symbol.

One who is the object of great attention and devotion; an idol.

Each year NEWH gives out its most prestigious award — the ICON of Industry. The award is presented at the Gold Key Awards for Excellence in Hospitality Design in New York City, held in conjunction with BDNY and HX: The Hotel Experience (formerly IHMRS) in November. The award celebrates the leaders of the manufacturing side of hospitality — those who have uniquely impacted the industry through their innovative work. They consistently dedicated their time and efforts to community or industry outreach through education and/or corporate giving and have been doing business in hospitality for more than 30 years. In addition, each year a $7,500 international scholarship is given to one exemplary student in the recipient's honor, who has completed at least half of his/her program toward a degree in the hospitality industry, has a minimum 3.0 GPA, participated in an industry internship, and exemplifies the highest standards of professionalism and scholarship.

We take this exclusive platform to highlight an individual we feel stands out within the industry as a leader within the manufacturing segment, who is driven in the pursuit of exceptional manufacturing processes and product development.

This year, NEWH presents Janice Feldman as our ICON of Industry. Our highest honor to a manufacturer with over 30 years in the industry.

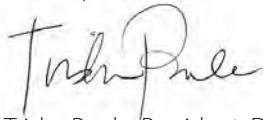

Many of you need no introduction to this iconic female that truly sets the bar for “outdoor living”. Janice draws from her international design expertise to launch new noteworthy contemporary collections that have established her well-renowned reputation for casual sophistication within the hospitality industry. She has always remained focused on growth and innovation of the business while maintaining a sensitivity to the environment when sourcing materials. We are pleased to share Janice’s story with you as we celebrate her success.

With our ICON Award, NEWH will also present a $7,500 scholarship to Brianna Hunter, an Interior Architecture major from Florida International University. Brianna is an exceptional student who meets our highest standards of academics, dedication, and character. It is with great pride we share the podium with Brianna tonight so you too may be inspired by her passionate pursuit for success within the hospitality industry.

Our scholarship program has enabled over 2,122 students to complete their studies and enter their desired careers within the hospitality industry. These students are bright and have proved to be an asset to the working environments they have joined. Many continue to give back to the industry by volunteering with their local NEWH Chapters and playing an active role on the board

NEWH has awarded over $4,800,000.00 in scholarships to date. We thank all of you within the industry that support NEWH by participating in networking events and donating your valuable time to make a difference within your local hospitality communities.

THE 2017 NEWH ICON OF INDUSTRY

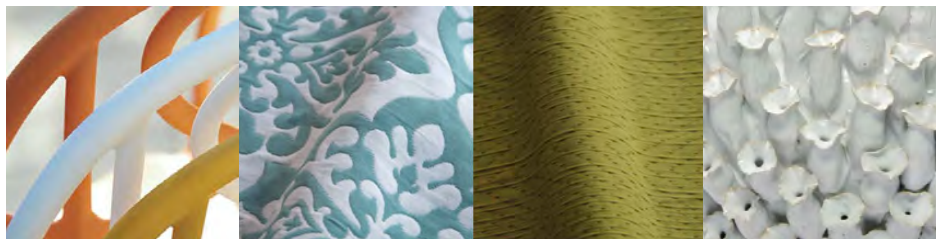

A champion of great design, Janice Feldman is lauded as a true pioneer in the design industry for her impressive contributions to material innovation and superior craftsmanship. A visionary and renowned business maverick, Feldman, as founder and Chief Executive Officer, has transformed JANUS et Cie from a single showroom in the Los Angeles Pacific Design Center to a comprehensive global lifestyle brand now embarking on its 40th year. With a prolific, ever-expanding international reach, the company operates independently within Haworth's Lifestyle Design division alongside the esteemed brands Cassina, Cappellini and Poltrona Frau. JANUS et Cie's footprint has grown to nineteen flagship showrooms throughout North America, Singapore, Sydney, and now Milan, in addition to field offices and select dealers throughout the world.

JANICE FELMAN

In 1978, Feldman opened her own business in the Pacific Design Center with encouragement from her late husband, Murray Feldman, developer of the noted Los Angeles landmark. Feldman named her nascent company JANUS et Cie, a homonym for her own first name. JANUS is the Roman god with two heads, one looking forward and the other looking back, who embodies Feldman's own approach to design and to life: zest for innovations of the future, respect for traditions of the past. The French “et Cie,” translates as “and company” to acknowledge that a company, like a life, is a collective as well as an individual effort.

In her passion for travel, Feldman has climbed the Himalayas and tracked chimps in the jungles of Tanzania. Her quest for understanding different cultures has lead Feldman to extended journeys in Europe, Southeast Asia and the Middle East. Her devotion to environmental responsibility has driven her to pioneer the use of environmentally friendly materials to extend product life cycle. This dedication has been recognized throughout the industry.

Thanks to Feldman’s esprit, what began as a representative firm for established furniture and textile manufacturers has evolved into a unique and extremely eclectic company, the leading international source for contemporary lifestyle furnishings and accessories. Feldman plays an integral role in product development at JANUS et Cie and has created many award-winning collections. Recent additions include Katachi, Kudo, Capella, Artemis, Sash, Hoffman, Slant, Amari, Boxwood, Capsule, Relais, Arbor, Suki, Tadlow, Triad, Vino, Whisk, Wing and Whiskey.

In April 2017, Feldman received an honorary doctorate in Fine Arts from the ArtCenter College of Design. Additionally, she was recently named 2017 NEWH ICON of Industry, a prestigious accolade honoring those who have uniquely impacted the hospitality industry through innovative work and dedication to the community.

BRIANNA HUNTER

Interior Architecture program at Florida International University (FIU)

Honored at 37th Annual Gold Key Awards for Excellence in Hospitality Design Gala November 13th, 2017

What it Means to Win this Scholarship:

Being awarded the 2017 NEWH ICON of Industry Scholarship is such an esteemed honor. This recognition acknowledges my hard work and dedication as well affirms that I am finally on the right career path. I will no longer second-guess myself, but rather be confident as I continue my journey in becoming a reputable designer in the hospitality industry.

Future Plans:

For the remainder of my academic career, I have high aspirations of obtaining my LEED Green Associates Certificate in addition to my WELL Certification to reinforce my passion for environmentally conscious design. Upon graduation, I am looking forward to returning to Interior Image Group and working towards obtaining my NCIDQ license.

Dream Job:

When identifying the ideal career, the satisfaction of managing an independent practice is very appealing. Ultimately, I am a creator at heart and getting involved in the processes of sustainable furniture and textile design will allow me to embrace that artistry.

Where I Want to Be:

As an aspiring interior designer, I have always seen myself striving to succeed and reach a high level of recognition. I would love to leave my personal imprint on this industry whether that be through creative solutions or even inspiring future designers. I want to make an impact.

NEWH Involvement:

I was fortunate enough to participate in the NEWH South Florida SOFHIE & Scholarship Awards Ceremony. This was an amazing opportunity to network with local vendors and design professionals. I am looking forward to volunteering for many future events to come.

BRIANNA'S STORY:

As a child, I had a vivid imagination and would spend most of my time drawing and constructing doll houses out of anything I could find around the house. Through my journey as an adolescent, I found myself questioning which career path was right for me. I was adamant about seeking a practical nine-to-five job that would offer security and flexibility. Showing much academic promise, I graduated from high school and once the question of "what's next?" was asked, I felt lost and unsure. From that point, I struggled to find an avenue that would allow me to embrace my passion for artistic expression and compliment my analytical thought process. After six years of studying at my local state college, I finally receive my "Aha!" moment. This occurred when my mother, to whom I am very close with, called to my attention that I need to spread my wings. I owe much of my accomplishments to her, as she inspired me to pursue a future in interior design.

The moment I started the Interior Architecture program at Florida International University (FIU), I felt connected to a part of myself. I had finally found a career path that would utilize my artistic abilities and even the knowledge I had gained from my previous studies of graphic design and business. Located in the heart of Miami, FIU opened my eyes to a new world of diversity and aesthetics that I never knew existed. My hometown, Port Saint Lucie, Florida did not necessarily support my natural talent and creativity, but in Miami I was surrounded by an urban culture that embraced the design industry and glorified interior environments. During the fall quarter of my first year of graduate school, I was fortunate to receive an internship opportunity from one of the junior members. It was this brief four-month period with Interior Image Group (IIG) that intensified my passion for hospitality design. I was truly blessed to work alongside Leslie Schultz, who allowed me (an introductory intern) to get involved with the design process. I learned so much about real-world projects and how they evolve into attainable spaces.

Throughout my academic career at FIU, I was able to take part in several firm tours and field trips. Having visited powerhouses such as MASS Design Group in Boston, Massachusetts and HOK in Atlanta, Georgia, my eyes were open to a sea of endless possibilities. Each of these experiences contributed to my understanding of how much depth this career offers. Not only are interior designers space planners, artists, graphic designers and, in some cases, a mediator, but also we develop environments that impact the health and wellbeing of society. I find this truly inspiring! This past June, I was also able to attend NeoCon in Chicago which was a liberating experience. Students rarely get the opportunity to sit in $1,500.00 chairs and see exquisite showrooms of the leading furniture manufacturers which is why I thoroughly enjoyed this trip. I would not have been able to attend these excursions if FIU did not offer students travel scholarships.

I am so thankful for the opportunities I have been presented with here in Miami. To show gratitude, I strive to be an active member in my design community by participating in local events such as the NEWH SOFHIE & Scholarship Awards Ceremony, the IIDA Advocacy Meeting, and fundraising for our local IIDA chapter. In the past, I have dedicated my time to volunteer for my university. For the last three years, I have taken part in the annual Festival of the Trees (FOT) event which allows me to network with design professionals and raise money for the Interior Architecture program. In 2016, I was fortunate enough to partner with Sherwin Williams and create a sculptural interpretation of the Machine Age for which I was awarded Most Sustainable Design.

Maintaining an active membership in organizations such as NEWH, IIDA and TAU Sigma Honor Society has exposed me to the true benefits of extracurricular activities. Working alongside fellow design students in a collaborative environment has allowed me to develop my communication skills and break away from my reclusive tendencies. I have been able to develop my confidence and identity as a designer. My efforts of hard work and dedication transmit into the studio environment. I value my ability to help others and offer creative solutions for any issues my fellow peers may be experiencing.

For the remainder of my academic career I will continue my journey to become a great interior designer. I have high aspirations of obtaining my LEED Green Associates Certification in addition to my WELL Certification to coincide with my passion to create environmentally conscious spaces. Upon graduation, it is my goal to return to IIG to work towards obtaining my NCIDQ license. Receiving my license will be a true milestone in my career and will allow me to seek employment with a globally recognized design firm such as Perkins+Will or Gensler. As an established designer, I would love to indulge in the processes of furniture and textile design to master my artistry. The ability to create objects that can both occupy and delineate space while uniting the concept of form and function has always fascinated me. Being an advantageous scholar, I do not see my thirst for knowledge diminishing anytime soon.

Because of this scholarship, I will be able to achieve my goals of becoming a reputable designer within the hospitality industry. Being a child of three in a single parent household, my mother has always encouraged me to follow my heart and reach a level of success defined by my own standards. Ultimately, my choice to attend college became a personal financial burden. Unfortunately, in 2016 my mother had to make the difficult decision to go on disability as a result of a preexisting health condition. This made a dramatic impact on my family. Since that time, I have never been more motivated and dedicated to achieve success. While my financial burden will be challenging, I understand that my education and the future of my family maintains a higher level of importance. I have been fortunate enough to receive financial assistance by maintaining a part-time job and with my time management skills and ability to multitask my grades have not been affected. I will continue to apply for scholarships because I understand that every bit of financial assistance helps.

The NEWH ICON of the Industry scholarship is such an esteemed honor to be awarded. Not only will it alleviate a portion of my existing student debt but also merit a level of confidence that I finally found something that I truly excel at. I will strive to maintain the integrity of the award by continuing to achieve my goals as a designer. If there is one thing I have learned about myself, it is that I continue to grow and evolve as an individual and I believe this quality will benefit my future career given the industry itself continues to evolve.

TRIBUTE TO JANICE

This is only the twelfth ICON award bestowed in the 37-year history of the NEWH of which Janice was a founding member. I cannot imagine a more deserving honoree for the following reasons:

In her business and personal life, Janice always does the right thing.

Integrity, talent, insight, a kind heart and superb people skills are in her DNA.

Janice is a great leader because she believes in every person's ability to achieve amazing things. She helps each person see the potential that exists inside of them.

This is why the "culture" within JANUS et Cie is so extraordinarily unique.

Janice has a profound ability to understand and feel what is in the hearts and minds of her employees, vendors and clients...she likes to know what makes people tick.

A natural-born maverick, Janice dropped out of art school at age 20 to explore the world in pursuit of her entrepreneurial and artistic interests. Since then,

Janice has conceived brilliant strategies with extraordinary vision and executed them adroitly and intuitively. In the past 39 years since she started JANUS et Cie, she has overcome countless challenging obstacles.

Her true alma mater, Art Center College of Design, recently bestowed her with an honorary doctorate degree.

Janice is a deep thinker and true visionary, seeing opportunities others cannot even imagine. She has a rare combination of right brain and left brain thinking—creative and practical. She loves to draw and is a wonderful painter. She is full of life and full of fun.

More than any other person I know, Janice's passion for design and detail truly creates the environments people the world over aspire and desire to surround themselves with.

Inspired by her mother, Lea, Janice, with modesty and humility, has always been grateful for the opportunity to build a company that touches the lives of so many people. She is optimistic, generous and strongly committed to excellence and beauty. Let me tell you, no details are overlooked by Janice!

I am so honored, proud and blessed to call Janice my wife and the love of my life.
